DREDGING NEWS

California Suction Gold Dredging Update

The latest hearing on the suction gold dredging moratorium in California took place February 14 in front of Judge Gilbert Ochoa in Rancho Cucamonga.

Nearly 50 miners showed up to lend their support.

Judge Ochoa set up a calendar for the case, with the most important date being July 24, 2013. This is when attorneys representing the miners will seek summary judgement and an injunction to get California suction gold dredgers back in the water immediately.

The case calendar is as follows:

March 15, 2013: Deadline to file amendments.

April 15, 2013: Deadline to file responses and pleadings.

May 15, 2013: Deadline to file opposition arguments.

June 15, 2013: Deadline to file replies to opposition arguments.

July 24, 2013: Hearing on demurrers and above mentioned arguments at 9am. Judge Ochoa will also address summary judgement and the requested injunction.

Randsburg Dig

We will be heading to Randsburg on April 11th. We will meet leaving from the Randsburg Jail promptly at 10 am, if you know where the claims are feel free to head on up and we will meet you there. Depending on the weather Randsburg is good for Dry Washing and Metal Detecting.

Directions: take the 15 to the 395 North towards Ridgecrest, exit at the Randsburg turn off, the jail is about 1 mile from the turn off, it is easy to find (it is kind of a pink/coral color and it says JAIL).

For more information contact George or Lisa Howison at: Celtichearts2@aol.com , 951-734-7530 or 951-733-0839

Summit Work Party and Dig

We will be going to the Cajon Summit on March 14th, this is a work/clean up party. We will be patching the roads and picking up trash to clean up the area before we dig. Trash bags will be provided. We will leave from the McDonalds parking lot, right off of the 15 and 138, promptly at 9:00 am. Weather permitting

For more information contact George or Lisa Howison at: Celtichearts2@aol.com , 951-734-7530 or 951-733-0839

Prez Says –

What a fantastic presentation at the February general meeting. I want to extend my thanks and gratitude to our recent member, Dr. Erik Melchiorre, for sharing with us “The Big Gold in Arizona”. We added his books to our Library, so check them out. Not only is his research quite fascinating, but the images of gold found recently in Arizona and around the world was spectacular. Thank you again Dr. Melchiorre for sharing this information.

I’d also like to thank the members who stepped up to the plate and volunteered to oversee “Finds of the Month” – Gary Devlin and his sister Sherry Livingston. This is a favorite bragging right for our members who work hard throughout the month to share their finds with others. Thanks again for helping your fellow members. We still need a courtesy chair. Won’t you consider helping at the front door to greet our guests and check in our members.

Another note, we are reaching out to local clubs to exchange outing opportunities. First Class Miners contacted me and announced they would change the dates for their Ord Mountain outing so they would not conflict with the GPAA Gold Show. So, if you can’t make it to the Potholes, Ord Mountain is another alternative on April 19, 20 & 21. At the March meeting we will have a signup sheet. They would like to know about how many may come so they can have enough prizes for their metal detecting hunt and an Easter egg hunt for the kids too!

Always looking for that “Big Gold”, Lorraine Frost

BLOOD BANK NEWS “MVP”

Welcome to the Blood Bank news for Valley Prospectors. As a community service, members donate blood to Lifestream. The “MVP” account is also available to members if they are in need of blood credits. It’s like having your own bank account. Please consider becoming a donor this year. As always my goal is 50 donations in a year. Below are our records for the past few years.

2005	2006	2007	2008	2009	2010	2011	2012
18	25	29	44	36	34	36	28

Please join our donors in helping us to reach 50 donations.

January donors were Lorraine Frost, Ellis Call and Lisa Howison.

The need is constant, the process is simple, and the results are priceless.

The Luck of The Old Time 49ers

Years ago a bunch of old 49ers got together to tell stories of the old days - here is one of those tales: Just at this point another old miner, a long lean specimen of antiquity from the State of Arkansas, and who had been asleep in the corner, now aroused up and remarked: "Well boys, that is a fact as Mike says, for 'tis now you do, and then again you don't; but I never told you boys how I got skunked once out of a good claim did I? No, for I don't like to tell it, for it has such a smell that it makes me sick.

" But this is how I got left, by going a little too fur to the right or to the left, I never knew which." You see. it was down in Calaveras, along in the spring of 51, I took my gun one day, and went out a few miles among the hills on a hunt; well I come across a deep ravine that looked as though it might be tolerable rich; it never had been prospected much anyway, and I concluded to do a little panning jest for fun; there were' some boys livin' about two miles from this ravine that I knew, so I went over to their cabin, and borrowed a pick, pan and shovel, and I tell you that I struck it rich; I found the gravel about four feet deep to the bed rock, and I got as much as ten dollars to a pan.

After panning out about $75, I filled up the hole again, covered it over with brush, so as to make it look jest natural like, and started for home. "When I took home their borrowed tools, the boys wanted to know if I found anything over in that ravine where I was prospecting? I said no, nothing much ; but they were kinder suspicious from my looks that I had found good prospects; I hurried home, and made up my mind to get my tools, mining notice and everything ready, and start out early in the morning before daylight for my rich ravine.

" Well I was on the way out thar about daylight the next morning, and I went around another way, so them chaps that I borrowed their tools from wouldn't see me.

" When I had got almost to their ravine, in crossing over a hill, I jest ran afoul of a big skunk right in their trail, I tried to git around him, but he walked right up towards me, so I threw down my tools, picked up some rocks, and went for him; but, somehow or other, I couldn't hit him, and he jest kept on drivin' me back down their hill, but I picked up a big club and laid him out cold, after foolin' away more than an hour trying to kill that odoriferous cuss; then I took up my tools and hurried over that hill down into my rich ravine.

But I tell you, boys, jest as soon as I come in sight of it I was mad clean through, now you bet, for right down thar on my rich claim, and hard at work, was them chaps that I had borrowed ther tools of; they had got ahead of me, while I was foolin' around with that skunk, and he'd taken up the whole ravine. I tried to reason with them fellers, told them that I had sunk a hole there the day before, and had therefore aright to it; they wanted me to jest show them where I had sunk a prospect hole, so I went to their pile of brush, and says I right thar, they said that no hole had ever been dug thar at all, so I jest kicked away their brush to show 'em, and I'll be dolgernd, if thar wasn't a slate ledge right under it; them boys had moved that brush either to the right, or a little to the left, so I couldn't tell where that spot was myself, and thet's how I got skunked out of a rich claim."
